HILTONS – On Saturday, October 23rd, 2021, at 7:30 p.m., the Carter Family Fold will present a concert featuring the Brother Boys and Friends. Doors open at 6:00 p.m. Admission to the concert is $10, children 6-11 $2, under age 6 free. Tickets will be sold at the door. We ask that our audience be mindful of Covid and respectful of Covid concerns.

The Brother Boys have reunited to bring their tongue and groove and infectious rhythm to the Carter Fold stage once again. Ed Snodderly and Eugene Wolf began their brother-duet singing back in the 90s, releasing three critically acclaimed recordings – two for Sugar Hill – Plow produced by Jerry Douglas, the self-produced Presley's Grocery and one for England's Zu-Zazz Records titled Mulehead. Years before the term Americana was born, they called their music New Hillbilly, which sounded good at the time – a way to distinguish the blending of country, bluegrass, and rockabilly. The Brother Boys have a knack for this old sound. The emotions and country heartache tones match the landscape of East Tennessee, where they both grew up.

The lyrics of Ed Snodderly's Diamond Stream are featured on the walls of the Country Music Hall of Fame. His latest CD is titled Record Shop. Eugene Wolf has been a member of the acting company of the historic Barter Theatre since 1977. His award-winning show, The Book of Mamaw played the Carter Fold in 2019 and hits the road again this summer.

Carter Fold audiences are familiar with Eugene Wolf from his numerous performances in Barter Theatre's production of Keep on the Sunny Side as A.P. Carter. Everyone in this area is familiar with Ed Snodderly through his many years of performing, producing, and running the Down Home in Johnson City, Tennessee. Accompanying the Brother Boys will be some of their musician friends – including fiddler Lisa Pattison and bassist, Brandon Story. Like Texas, the Fold has to have a fiddle in the band.

Come out and join us for this performance. The Brother Boys did our first concert this summer when we re-opened after an 18-month Covid closure. Brint along your family and friends - & don't forget your dancing shoes. We would love to have you with us.
